

venturetrust

Our strategic framework 2019-2024

See potential

Our ambition

To challenge inequality. At Venture Trust we want everyone to succeed and to continue to do so throughout their lives. At any stage in life, people can struggle, and it becomes about surviving not thriving. We support those struggling with many and complex issues, outside mainstream support and unemployed, or who may have never been in employment. This hinders their life chances and future potential. Our approach is preventative and long-term. We focus on an individual's strengths, equipping them with essential life-skills and building confidence. Together, we can tackle a cycle of harm and inequality which leaves some people in the margins of society.

We will become the 'go to' organisation for intensive person-centred personal development delivered in communities and the Scottish wilderness to help people who need more support to realise their potential. By being evidence-led, we will advocate for better policy and practice that recognises and delivers greater equity and opportunity for those who need it most.

We commit to increase the number of people achieving their goals year on year.

Our vision

Everyone, irrespective of their past, can achieve their potential for a healthy, happy and fulfilling life. By 2024, we aspire that more people, ready for change, build the foundations to thrive and succeed for the long term.

Our mission

To help people to realise their potential by providing life-changing personal development.

By offering intensive learning and development in communities and the Scottish wilderness, we support people to gain life skills, stability and confidence. Our work aims to end cycles of disadvantage and adversity for individuals, their families and in communities.

Our values

Our values underpin everything we do.

Courage

We remain brave when things are tough

Care

We will attend to people and place

Curiosity

We are thoughtful

Collaboration

We work together for greater impact

Supporting people to gain life skills, stability and confidence

It's all about change

Where someone grew up, their family background or previous negative and damaging experiences - do not have to define them. We can put this right. Everyone deserves compassion, access to opportunity and justice. By empowering the people we support to share their experiences coupled with evidence of what works, we can make the case for change. We can tackle disadvantage and inequality that is restricting people's life chances. Our strategic framework sets out to support people most in need. We believe in wider change in our society and greater equity of support and opportunity for those who need it most. Our future wellbeing and prosperity require us to offer solutions for the long term.

Wellbeing, relationships and belonging

We aspire for everyone to enjoy better mental, emotional and physical wellbeing. With support, tackling social isolation, the underlying causes of alcohol or drug misuse or the stress of living in poor quality housing, is possible. The people we support show positive self-confidence, improved relationships and stability.

Everybody relies on public services. We believe individuals should be able to access support and advice when they need it from specialist providers in local authorities, the NHS and charities to overcome barriers.

Safer communities - prevention, reducing reoffending, rehabilitation

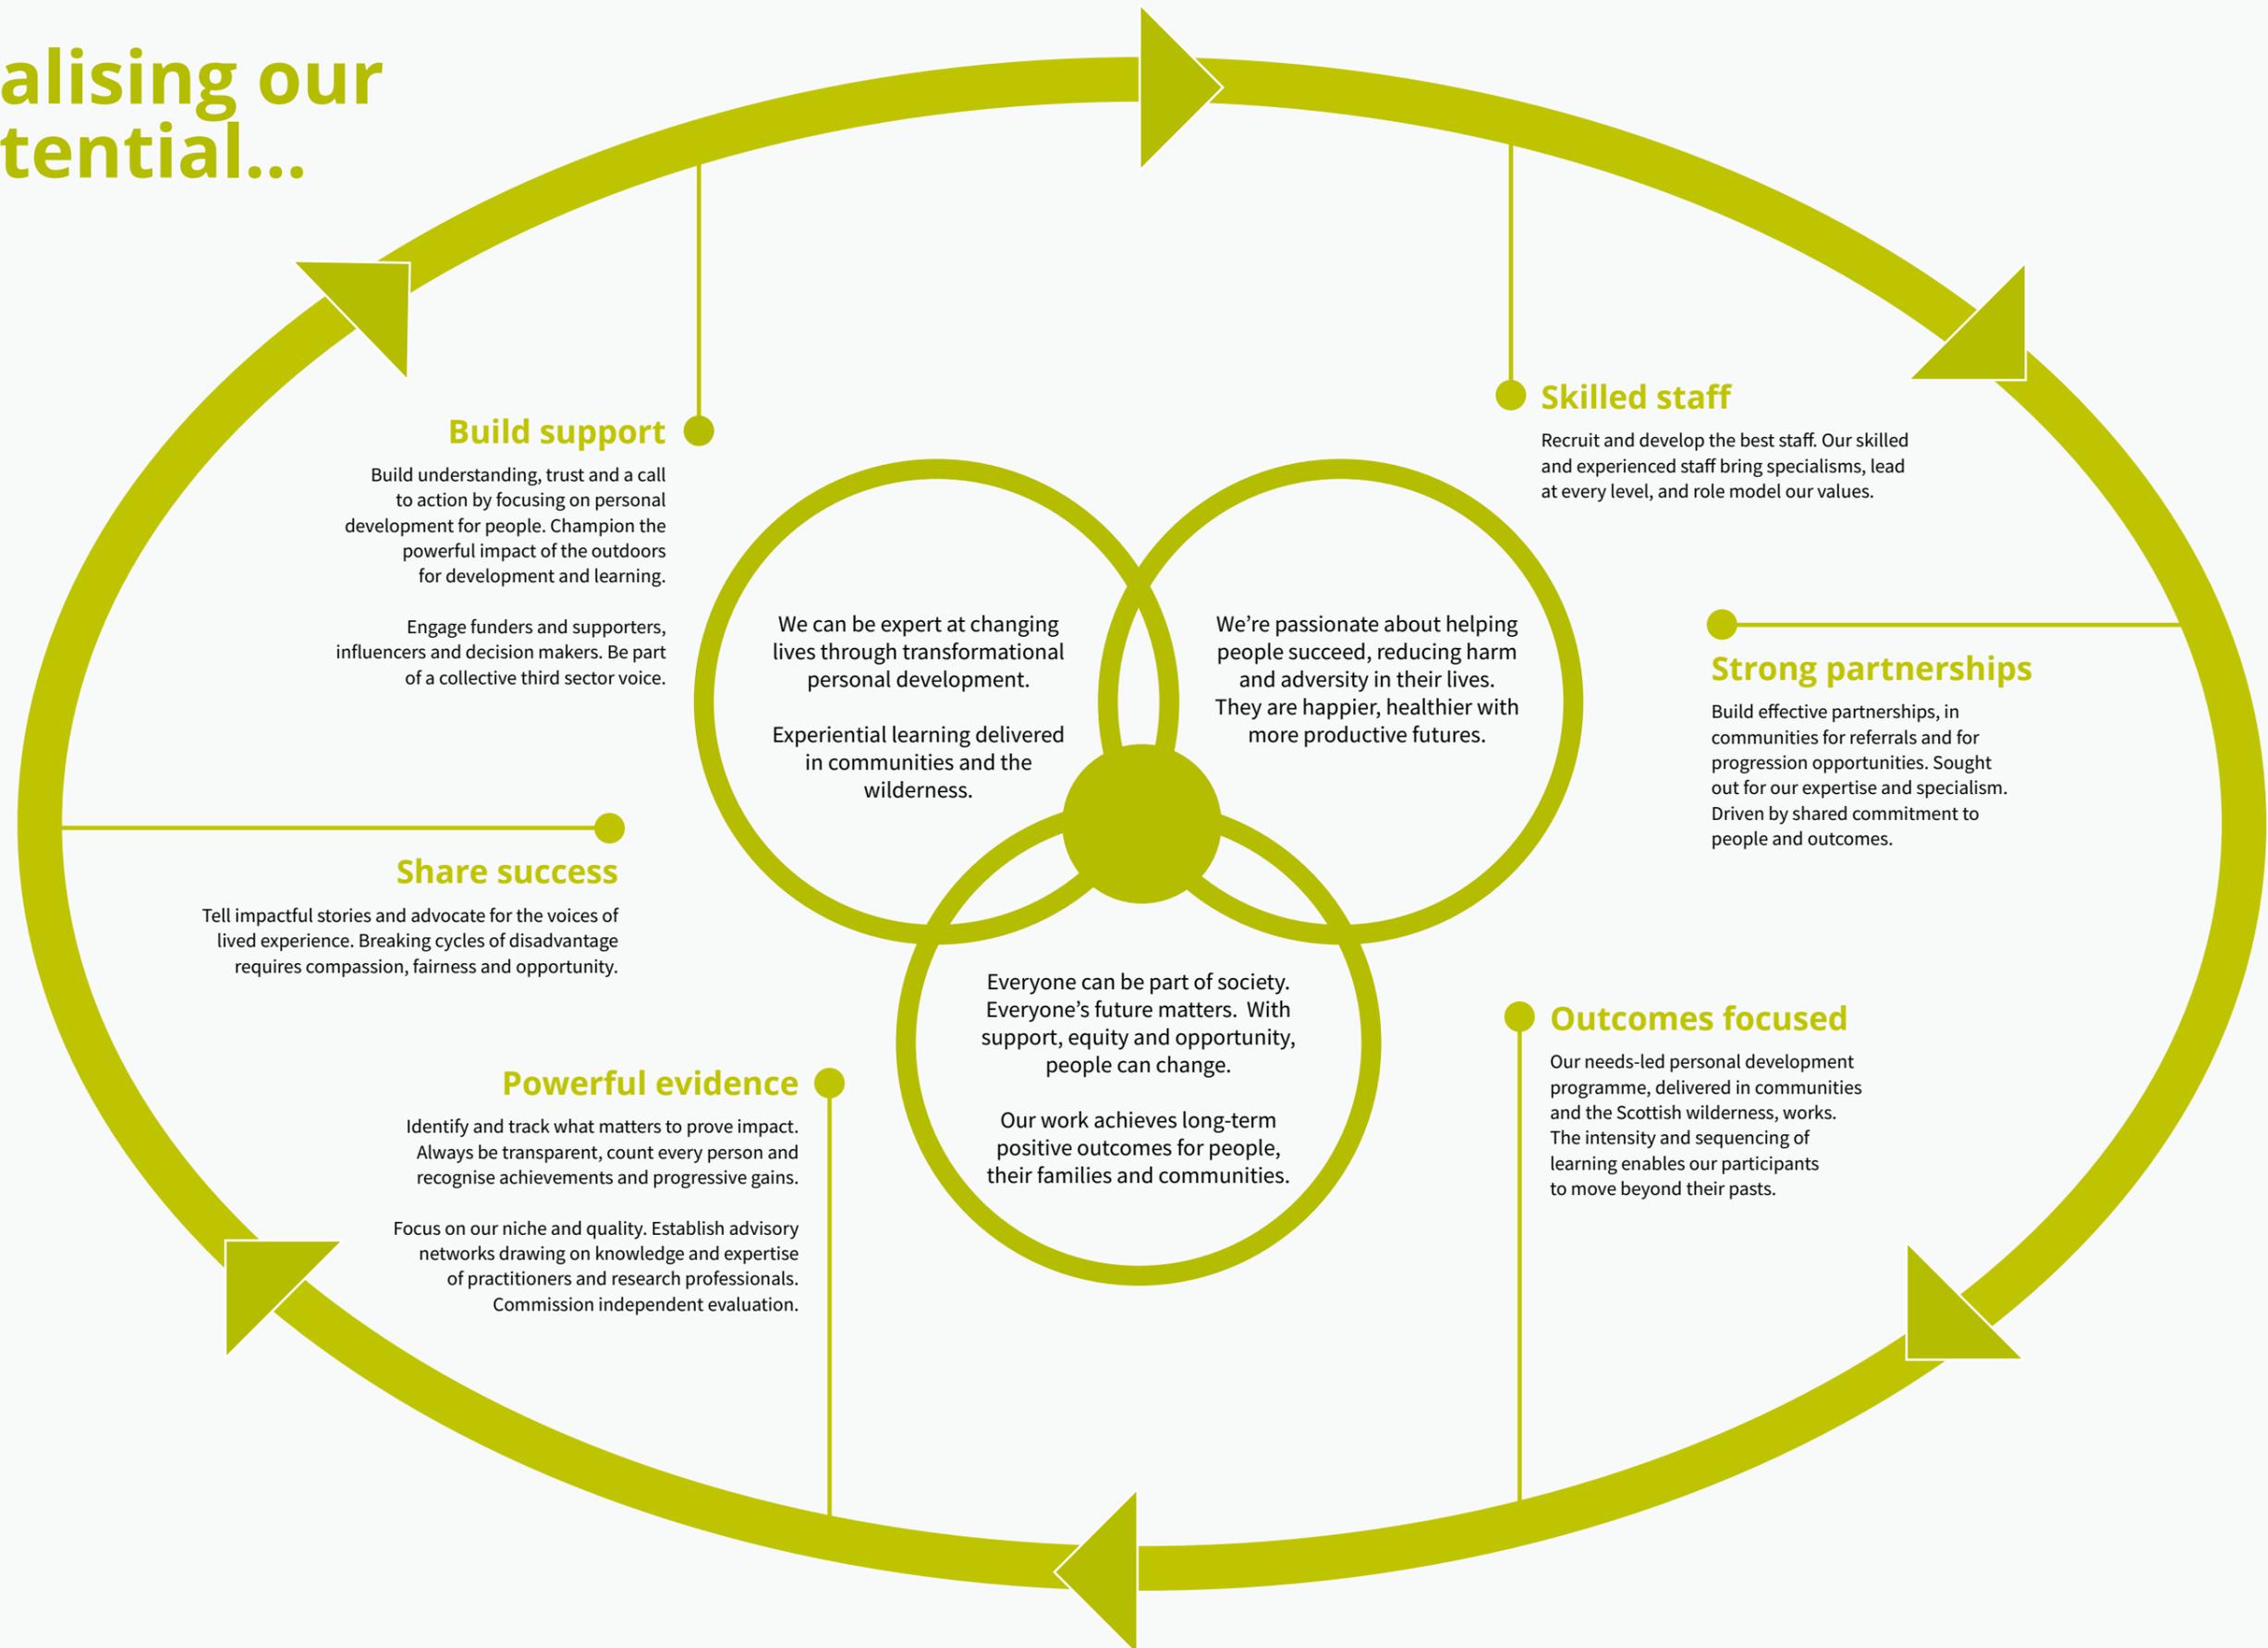

All the evidence suggests that community-based interventions are a better option than short-term prison sentences for many individuals in the criminal justice system. We believe there should be a far greater emphasis on rehabilitation alongside unpaid work and other measures of support in community sentences. Investing in reliable and effective community provision and a collaborative public and third sector response will help people get their lives back on track and away from potential involvement in crime.

Jobs and prosperity - employability, employment, alleviating poverty

Our priority is that employers see the potential in people for their organisation. Working together we will create opportunities for individuals to experience work and be ready to contribute and learn. We can reduce stigma for individuals with previous convictions by encouraging employers to offer interviews based on potential and asking for disclosure at job offer stage.

We believe support for employability skills, finding work and employment should reflect the foundations some people need to build. This takes time and is vital for sustained positive progressions and to build a decent standard of living.

Realising our potential...

Build support

Build understanding, trust and a call to action by focusing on personal development for people. Champion the powerful impact of the outdoors for development and learning.

Engage funders and supporters, influencers and decision makers. Be part of a collective third sector voice.

Skilled staff

Recruit and develop the best staff. Our skilled and experienced staff bring specialisms, lead at every level, and role model our values.

Strong partnerships

Build effective partnerships, in communities for referrals and for progression opportunities. Sought out for our expertise and specialism. Driven by shared commitment to people and outcomes.

Share success

Tell impactful stories and advocate for the voices of lived experience. Breaking cycles of disadvantage requires compassion, fairness and opportunity.

Outcomes focused

Our needs-led personal development programme, delivered in communities and the Scottish wilderness, works. The intensity and sequencing of learning enables our participants to move beyond their pasts.

Powerful evidence

Identify and track what matters to prove impact. Always be transparent, count every person and recognise achievements and progressive gains.

Focus on our niche and quality. Establish advisory networks drawing on knowledge and expertise of practitioners and research professionals. Commission independent evaluation.

Supporting people to gain life skills, stability and confidence

Strategic aims and priorities

We support people to build foundations to succeed for life. We will deliver our vision by:

Meeting the need - reaching people in need sooner and more effectively by being responsive and visible in targeted communities. We will partner and collaborate with organisations invested in solutions and change. Over the lifetime of this strategic framework, we will enhance programme design and delivery to achieve better outcomes.

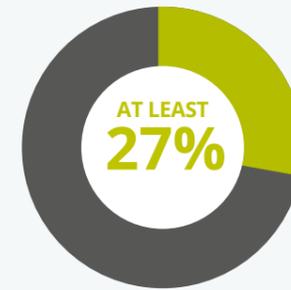

Advocating for change - influencing and building support. We will continue to listen to the people we support and empower them to have a voice and to share their experiences - because their opinions matter and will help shape change. We will also contribute to research, establish advisory expert groups and commission independent evaluation to evidence the impact of our work and prioritise a preventative approach. By investing in more advocacy and sharing experience and evidence there will be ultimately fewer people struggling in the future.

Working sustainably - reflecting our values and beliefs. By attracting and developing the best staff team, how we deploy resources and care for the environment determines our long-term impact. We will seek to innovate and improve our work. By balancing the risks and benefits of our activities we can plan and manage our future successfully.

Delivering impact requires us to attract support and secure resources but also to spend it on delivering what works. We plan to grow both our voluntary income and commissioned work. Trading via our social enterprise, Venture Mør will expand our reach and diversify our income further.

Meeting the need

In 2016-17, we supported people, of whom:

WITH A HISTORY OF ALCOHOL ABUSE

WITH OFFENDING BACKGROUNDS

HAD EXPERIENCED MENTAL HEALTH ISSUES

AT LEAST 35% WITH A HISTORY OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE

APPROX.
12%
PREVIOUSLY ENROLLED IN ARMED FORCES/VETERAN

EXPERIENCE HOMELESSNESS

AT LEAST
10%
WITH CARE RESPONSIBILITIES

Our approach

Our programme is voluntary, where an individual chooses change and feels ready for a programme of learning and development. We use experiential learning with cognitive and therapeutic developmental techniques to build skills and unlock confidence. This offers support and challenge, so individuals make sustained progress towards their goals. This can take time; we help people build the right foundations and protective factors to succeed for the rest of their lives.

Our intensive personal development and the powerful catalyst of the outdoors helps people gain greater understanding with confidence in themselves and how they connect with others and the wider world leading to lasting positive change. Importantly individuals are more able to overcome setbacks and navigate 'systems', such as accessing benefits, securing and sustaining a suitable home. We focus development on three aspects of life and society because everyone, irrespective of their past, can achieve their potential for a healthy, happy and fulfilling life:

Wellbeing - So that people have the confidence to develop positive relationships and address social isolation and loneliness. With support, individuals can find stability and be self-reliant. They can prioritise their health, specifically their mental wellbeing and tackle alcohol or substance misuse.

Prevention and rehabilitation - Reducing the harm of crime by supporting people at risk of offending. We will champion prevention and rehabilitation by supporting individuals to tackle complex circumstances and patterns of behaviour.

Skills to be ready for work and future learning - We will continue to equip people to be 'job ready', able to access mainstream support, open to further learning and more able to sustain employment to earn a decent standard of living. So they can move beyond 'getting by' or struggling in poverty.

In Scotland, there are:

PREVENTION

1,954
individuals diverted from prosecution in 2016-17

OFFENDING

Three-quarters (76 per cent) of total Orders commencing in 2015-16 included an element of unpaid work or other activity

UK research shows:

MENTAL HEALTH

WELLBEING

Lonely people more likely to suffer from dementia, heart disease and depression
Loneliness is likely to increase your risk of death by 29%

Supporting people to gain life skills, stability and confidence

About us

Since 1983, Venture Trust has led the way on intensive personal development for people, at any stage in their life, struggling with many and complex issues. We support people in their local community and with learning and development in the Scottish wilderness. The outdoors offers inherent challenge for individuals to reflect on beliefs, attitudes and behaviours. With time and space away from influences at home, individuals can unlock skills and learn new, more positive, ways of approaching situations.

Our outreach and development staff are experts in building trusted professional relationships, balancing risk and reward in the outdoors and in nuancing delivery of developmental approaches to support, inspire and challenge individuals to be open to change and move forward.

We ask our staff team to be curious, skilled and committed to our values. We believe in people's rights, equity and opportunity. Everyone is motivated to help people succeed and realise their potential.

References

- The OECD report on social mobility identifies a 'sticky floor' trapping people outside the labour market and other opportunities. The OECD highlights the positive impact of 'second chance' programmes in social mobility. OECD. 2018. A broken social elevator? How to promote social mobility.
- There are currently about 20,000 individuals subject to Community Justice Orders supervised by statutory social work services per annum in Scotland (95 per cent subject to Community Payback Orders). Criminal Justice Social Work Statistics in Scotland: 2015-16, February 2017.
- There are 4,000 16-24 year olds who have been unemployed for over 12 months. For some, this means they will have never worked. Scottish Labour Market (September 2018). Scottish Government, Office of the Chief Economic Advisor.
- Impacts on the life chances of young people and in-work poverty on individuals and families. An assessment and recommendations by Naomi Eisenstadt, Independent Advisor on Poverty and Inequality. Report to the Scottish Government's First Minister. 2016. Shifting the Curve.
- The impact of harm in childhood and the correlation with ill-health and 'health-harming behaviours' in life. Scottish Public Health Network (ScotPHN). Sarah Couper and Phil Mackie. 2016. 'Polishing the Diamonds': Addressing Adverse Childhood Experiences in Scotland.
- A survey of young peoples' happiness and confidence. Prince's Trust. Macquarie Youth Index 2018 Annual Report.
- Perspectives on prevention and early intervention and diversion from prosecution. Centre for Youth & Criminal Justice. 2018. A Guide to Youth Justice in Scotland: Policy, Practice and Legislation.
- Evidence on the impact on nature and health, wellbeing and educational outcomes. Rebecca Lovell. 2016. Natural England Access to Evidence Information Note EIN015. Connection to Nature: evidence briefing.
- Social and emotional skills matter to the positive development of young people. Defining the standards, experiences and curriculum features. Charles Smith et al. 2016. Preparing Youth to Thrive: Promising Practices for Social Emotional Learning.

Be the change

By committing to change we can succeed together. We cannot do this on our own. Your support will make all the difference in helping us reach people in need and creating a future with hope, aspiration and far greater resilience for the future.

venturetrust

Argyle House

3 Lady Lawson Street Edinburgh EH3 9DR
T: 0131 228 7700 F: 0131 228 7701

www.venturetrust.org.uk hello@venturetrust.org.uk

Venture Trust is a registered charity in Scotland (SCO38932) and England and Wales (285891). Registered office: 71 Queen Victoria Street, London, EC4V 4BE

 @venturetrust

 /venturetrust

